COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS OFFICE

As soon as the information is received from the Assessors, notice will be sent to all persons owning dogs who have not paid the 1959 dog tax that they have ten days in which to obtain their license from the Town Clerk. At the end of the ten day period the names of persons who have not obtained the 1959 license will then be turned over over to Al Baker, Dog Constable.

Notices were sent by Certified mail to several persons having more than two discarded, abandoned, or junk autos on their premises adjacent to the highway. This notice was sent after a notice appeared in the Bethel Citizen pertaining to licensing junk yards and removing old vehicles if the owner did not care to apply for a license. The motive behind the enforcement of the junk yard law is not to obtain revenue through licensing, but to require the removal of the unsightly junk along the highways. Licensees have already been issued to Kenwood Hutchinson and Raymond Buck. Roscoe Swain has applied for a license and there will be a public hearing at the Town Office at 7:30 P. M. on July 23rd to act on his application.

Several have cleaned up their old vehicles, and have cooperated. Those that have been notified and have not done anything towards removing the vehicles face prosecution.

The final payment was made to the Town Bank this week on the Trojan Loader.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

DON'T BE A HURRY BUG—SLOW DOWN AND LIVE

"Don't be a Hurry Bug! Slow Down and Live!" This advice was offered to Maine motorists today by the State Police as they discussed the speed control program.

"Slow Down and Live!" "A Hurry Bug is so intent upon getting to his destination in the shortest possible time that nothing else matters to him," they continued. "Courtesy, good judgment, safety—all these go by the board when he gets behind the wheel."

Pointing out that the typical Hurry Bug is a prime candidate for an accident or a nervous breakdown, they emphasized also that he stands a mighty good chance of cracking up in a traffic accident.

"He's the fellow who acts his speed strictly by the potential of his car, or by the maximum speed limit if he thinks a traffic officer may be somewhere around," they added, contrasting the Hurry Bug's irresponsible conduct with the sensible behavior of the motorist who drives at a speed safe for conditions of traffic, weather, road and his own physical and mental state. The Hurry Bug ignores such warnings as rough roads, reduced visibility, slippery roads, heavy traffic, worry or fatigue, but the truly intelligent driver heeds them for what they are—danger signs—and he slows down.

"The Hurry Bug too often hurries himself into the hospital or into eternity," they concluded. "Don't be a Hurry Bug. SLOW DOWN AND LIVE!"

NIGHT FIRE TAKES ROBERTS FURNITURE BUILDING AT HANOVER

The building on the Howard Pond road at Hanover, occupied for many years as a furniture store by J. B. Roberts and his successors, was burned to the ground early Tuesday morning.

Occupants of the building were Mr. and Mrs. Clement Couture and three children, who escaped in their nightclothes. They lost everything but were unharmed. It is believed that the blaze was started by an oil water heater.

The building was owned by the Rangeley Trust Company and was insured. The Coutures' loss was partially covered by insurance. The fire was fought by the Hanover, Rumford Point and Rumford fire departments.

H. EUGENE McALLISTER

Hiram Eugene McAllister passed away very suddenly Sunday, July 12th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lovejoy on the Box Road in Gilead where he had been the past six weeks.

He was born in Greenwood, August 14, 1875 and was the son of Hiram H. and Abbie Mieling McAllister. His early life after the death of his mother was spent in Grafton with his grandparents. Mr. McAllister worked in Bethel, Locke Mills and Newry for many years and will be remembered as a hard working man, who asked little from the world except a chance to earn an honest living, and to go about among his friends.

He had the misfortune to lose one leg several years ago and since then has been confined to crutches.

He had a wonderful memory and took a keen interest in the events of the day.

From July 1952 to about six weeks ago he has lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy in West Bethel.

Mr. McAllister was a member of Bear River Grange.

The only survivors are several nieces and nephews in California and some distant cousins.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf Funeral Home at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Rev. Clifford Laws officiating.

MOTOR MAIDS

Tip Of Bonnet To Safety Friends

By Martha Johnson Dodge Safety Consultant

A tip of our Motor Maids' bonnet and big bouquets to a number of our favorite people—folks around the country who are doing an excellent job of making driving both fun and safe.

In Kansas, the State Highway Commission reduced left-road-at-curve fatal motor vehicle accidents in a year's time by 43 per cent—a saving of 21 lives, by changing signs along the highway. Now, instead of the driver having to hunt for them—the signs are larger, the color is different and more reflective material is used.

In metropolitan Detroit, both the Detroit Traffic Court and the suburban Dearborn Municipal Court recently fined drivers for splashing pedestrians.

In Hillsdale, N. Y., a woman driver sent this note to State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly, enclosing her operator's license which would have been valid for another year: "Having reached the age of 81 with a perfect record of safe driving, it occurs to me that it would be a nice gesture to turn in my license and retire from driving a car, voluntarily, before I might become a menace to life on the highway."

And in Alpena, Michigan, another 81-year-old surrendered his license after 45 years of driving without an accident or ticket. "I can't drive as well as I should, so I'm quitting before I hurt somebody," he wrote officials.

In Milford, Michigan, the White Lake Township Police Department has inaugurated the thoughtful policy of issuing courtesy citation tickets instead of regular violation tickets for minor first offenses. In this recreational area, Chief of Police Andy Plano and Officer Lou Marsh report the citations are well accepted and are making a big impression on drivers without causing hard feelings toward the department.

GILEAD

— Mrs. Florence Holder, Corres. —

Harold Webber of New Sharon was a recent guest of Clayton Bryant.

Misses Bertha and Marion Taylor have returned to Gardiner after a vacation spent at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tyler have returned to London Bridge, Va., after a few days spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tyler.

Harry Thompson of Gardiner, and Frank Miller of Mechanics were visitors in town last Friday.

Amedee Fisette returned to his home here Tuesday from the St. Louis Hospital, Berlin, N. H., where he has been a patient for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Loring of Portland spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanson.

Up a steep mud choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Aventura Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3124 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. It comes through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where pikes won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 20,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing!

Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

The Story of the East Andover School

—Its Teachers, and the Residents of the Community by Violet Swain

1926-1927 Vivian Martin, now Mrs. Robert Milton of Andover, came to East Andover for $250.00. At this time a new heater replaced the old box stove and it was moved from the front to the back. This remained there until sometime in the 1950's. She has 3 children and 2 grandchildren.

1927-1928 Marie Elliot returned to teach. While she was there that year the school was clapboarded, painted and shingled. She received $20.00 per week. She remembers having the Leach children and the older Glover children.

1928-1929 Nancy Williamson, now Mrs. Herbert McAllister of Danville, came to East Andover the year following her graduation from Farmington Normal School. In November of that year she was married but she remained to finish the year. They both resided with the Howards. They have four children, and three grandchildren. One daughter graduated from Gorham State Teachers College and plans to be married this summer. They both attended the reunion and she told many interesting things about school 30 years ago. One of her pupils was the hostesses husband, Robert B. Swain, others were Christine Glover (Ladd) and Norman White.

1929-1930 Lucie Vater, now Mrs. Wilfred Videto of Sabattus, replaced Mrs. McAllister the next year. They had been classmates at Farmington Normal and are still very good friends. Mrs. Videto still teaches school and they live quite close together. They and their husbands attended the reunion. She told of having the mumps while teaching the fall term and how Mrs. Marie Lang substituted for her bringing the Christmas program, children, tree and all, to the Howard's so that she might enjoy it all. She recalled picnics in the grove; the stove funnel falling down; the log drives on the mill pond; the evening spent at Mrs. Howard's and how Mrs. Howard taught her to do fancy work.

1931 through 1934 Ruth Bailey, a local girl, now Mrs. Merle Akers of North Andover, taught for the next three years. She received $17.00 a week. She has three sons and one granddaughter.

1934-1935 Herbert Hall came to a building to teach that did not have electricity. He had the largest beginners class that had ever entered, nine. Mr. Hall kept two seasons the first year because of the large enrollment. The last of the afternoon, in the fall and winter, it was dark before classes were dismissed. He told the superintendent that he would install lights if he could do his own power work, using that money to help care the building. The ceilings were very high and there were hanging lights, but very good lighting but a lot better than none at all. Before this there were brackets on the walls to hold lamps. He now lives in Ohio and has four children.

1935-1936 Robert Thurston, now Mrs. Thomas Leonard of Andover, taught for the first time as a teacher. She has four children, two graduated from Andover High in 1939. She returned to teaching after her family was all established and has a very lovely new elementary room at the High School building.

1936 through 1942 Violet Peterson, now Mrs. Robert B. Swain of East Andover, was the writer of this article. It was my idea to have a reunion in June, 1959. I taught here for four years, the longest anyone had ever stayed. I had grades 1-7 the first year and kept two seasons. Grades 1-4 went from 1936 until 1937. The 5, 6, and 7 grades went from 1937 until 1939. In the winter of 1939 grades 6 and 7 went to the village school and school relocated to the point house. The point was still the jacketed stone, the seats were on skids and very hard to move. The floor was still the rough boards with malleable. There was no room and facilities for a stage. I bonded with Mr. and Mrs. Howard until the death of 1949 and then continued to live with Mrs. Howard for the next two years. I have three sons and two daughters in the school.

burn, Miss Brandon replaced me during one of the war years. She and Louise Crooker (Leach) became good friends and used to walk to Andover on Saturdays to take piano lessons from the late Hazel Fox. She boarded with Mrs. Howard and was the last teacher to have the pleasure of living with that wonderful lady. She has one son, Wayne, and has been teaching for two years in Shawmut, near Fairfield.

1943-1954 Mrs. Vivian Barlow, a resident of East Andover and the wife of George Barlow. Her home is next to the school house. After her family, of one son and one daughter, were both in school and the war made it hard to secure teachers in this town, Mrs. Barlow went to teaching. The school closed in 1944 and Mrs. Barlow went to the Elm Street School to teach, due to a shortage in teachers. In 1945 the school reopened for Grade 1-5 with about 20 children. In 1946, due to illness, Mrs. Barlow did not teach and Mrs. Marie Lang taught at the school until Christmas. Then the children were transported to the village for the remainder of the year. It was at this time the Superintendent suggested closing the school for good. The townspeople objected and so in 1947 Mrs. Barlow returned to the East Andover School with Sub-Primary through 5th grades and there she taught faithfully until 1954. She saw many changes in the many years that she was teaching there, a new ceiling was put in and lowered, quite a bit; fluorescent lights were added, the first in town in a school building. An electric clock was added, a library corner installed with a low table and chairs for the young-est children. A new inlay was laid and storm windows put on the shady side of the building. Beautiful new modern movable seats were the first in town along with a brand new desk. A piano was bought by the School, Sunday School and the Community Club sharing the expense. The blackboards were painted the pale green that was supposed to help ease the glare. A very good playground with teeters, swings, a merry-go-round and a slide kept the children happy at recess time and became a playground for small children in the evenings.

She raised the money to buy the slide by putting on a Talent Show. The Community Club and community members put up the four unit swings and installed the merry-go-round (which Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Swain bought). The Milk Program was started by Mrs. Barlow and she had more music in her school than had been for many years before or later. She had given to her a record player to be used for her music appreciation classes. She has been a teacher in the Disfield School for the past two years and expects to return there in the fall.

1954-1955 Mrs. Dorothy Abbott, a resident of South Andover, came to teach in 1954 after the death of her husband, Steve. Since then she has taught at Roxbury. She left in May for Illinois, called there by the serious illness of her son in law. Just before the reunion he died. She has the one daughter and a son in the Navy.

1955-1956 Mrs. Helen Spencer of Andover, wife of Everett Spencer, came to teach in the fall of 1955 after raising a family of three daughters and doing some substitute work. She never had running water or bathroom but she did have a lot of equipment and facilities to do with that former teacher. She will probably go down in the history of this school as the last teacher. She taught sub-primary through 4th Grade. The last year the Sub-Primary went to the newly built room in the High School so she had only four grades with 12 pupils. The milkman delivered half pails of white or chocolate milk which the pupils drank at recess time. The pupils who brought their dinners sometimes roasted potatoes on a small heater that replaced the old jacketed stove. The old stove is a furnace in Wilbur Thayer's home. Sometimes in the very cold weather they heated soap and gathered around a table to eat family style. The last pupils to attend the school were Grade 1, Helen Quimby, Helen Glover and Helen Quimby, Grade 2, and Grade 3, Betty Farrington.

COUNTRY FLAVOR FELLY SOAKING

One doubts if many modern lads know about fellys. Today a 14 year-old handles a powerful tractor and the equipment that goes with it, but he does not know the dry weather problems concerned with the rims of wagon wheels.

The felly is the wooden rim to which the metal tire is attached. The dish of a wheel is the angle at which the spokes run from hub to felly. In the summer, as dry hot weather settled in, the felly shrank from the rim and the spokes loosened in the felly.

That was why one morning when farm work wasn't pressing, a man was likely to say, "Son, hitch Belle to the democat and go down to the brook passage today. Be good for Belle's hooves to get a soaking too."

The brook passage was a fording place near the old plank bridge. On both sides of the brook was an area of soft mud. While the four wheels of the wagon were soaking in the brook, Belle stood patiently in the mud.

Felly soaking wasn't exciting to a boy, but it was fun to explore beneath the bridge. In bare feet, one could inch along the slippery, moss-covered abutment rocks. Sometimes a long water snake slithered down stream, head held high above the water. Water bugs dashed back and forth, and silver-sided minnows flashed from side to side. Each year a pair of pheasants built a nest against one of the bridge stringers. The birds sat on the telephone wire and pronounced their names while a lad was beneath the bridge.

Felly soaking is a thing of the past. Democratic fringe-topped surreys, buckboards and covered buggies no longer roll along country roads. Metal rims

Rodney Swain, Perry Stinson and Billy Simmons; Grade 4, Sherman Maddix, Phillip Smith, Carolyn Simmons and Nancy Glover. Everyone of the child had either a father or a mother who had attended this same school in previous years.

Down through the years agents and superintendents have been many. In the 1800's and up until 1917 agents were T. W. Blaisdell, Charles Farrington, F. R. Merrill, S. W. Richard, Rufus Merrill, A. S. Gordon, Mrs. Lewis Ripley, George Talbot, J. P. Keith, Bertha Poor, Rev. Sam Holden, Mrs. Y. A. Tharsten, Mrs. A. G. Merrick, Mrs. Sylvanus Poor, Mrs. Olive Dresser and Mrs. Alice Andrews. At this time the Union No. 24 was organized with A. S. Merrill, John J. Howard, L. P. Spinyer, Sherman Graves, Lawrence Peakes and Harvey McGuire. Five of the above are still living. Mrs. Sylvanus Poor, and Mrs. Alice Andrews Merrill of Andover; L. P. Spinyer, Topsham; Lawrence Peakes, Bangor and Harvey McGuire of Mexico who is now building a home in Andover on the old McAllister Theatre lot. He plans to move here in about two years.

The building was painted the last time by the Community Club and community members, and the town shingled the roof again in recent years. A bus route started in later years to transport both grade school and high school pupils to the village. The school was a bus stop. In 1939 the town built a plaza on the front of the building. The wood shed at the right of the building stored enough wood for the winter. In front of this building set the flag pole. For years it was at the front of the building but the snow plows would knock it down so finally it was set by the roadside out of everyone's way!

The men in the community who served in the Armed Forces had an Honor Roll that hung in the school on a front wall. The World War II men's names were put on the Roll on the Common at Andover but the Community Club had a plaque made in 1952 for the following men who served in the European Theatre: Harold E. Glover who is a career man now stationed in Washington, D. C.; Earl Meisner, living in East Andover; George Barlow Jr., a career man stationed in Arlington; Frank Leroy Farrington, living in East Andover;

MAN'S RECIPE

Sunny Acres Corn Chowder —Butter Base

I claim that the progressive debilitation of the culinary, social and cultural levels is partly due to the decline of corn chowder. A topflight corn chowder is a mighty tasty dish on a cool evening. This recipe proved one of the most popular in Country Flavor Cookbook. I experimented a long spell to achieve just his amalgamation of flavors blended into one harmonious whole. Don't hang me in effigy until you try it. You don't need salt pork to make a Grade A corn chowder.

Use four medium potatoes cut into small chunks, four small onions sliced, two tablespoons butter or margarine, one eighth pound butter or margarine, two No. 303 cans cream corn, one quart whole milk, one half cup light cream, one and a half teaspoons salt, one eighth teaspoon pepper, one fourth teaspoon parsley flakes, one eighth teaspoon thyme, one eighth teaspoon marjoram.

Fry onions until brown in the two tablespoons butter. Cook the cubed potatoes in simmering water for 15 minutes. Use one half cup of potato water to rinse out the corn cans. Warm the milk and cream in a large pan and add the potatoes, onions, corn, eighth of a pound of butter, herbs, salt and pepper.

Heat to piping hot but do not boil. Set chowder aside to cool for at least two hours. Reheat to piping hot just before serving. I hope you will try this some cool day. I will be glad to hear your opinion of it.

fastened to wooden fellys have given way to rubber tires. We cannot deny progress, but sometimes the countryman wishes that today's boys could know some of the quieter pleasures of yesteryear.

Robert L. Hall, living in Bethel.

These men served in Korea: William Cushing of Townsend, Mass.; Wilbur Cheney of East Andover; James Bradley Hines, Rumford; Wellington Farrington, Andover; Charles Freeman Farrington, East Andover; Clifford Gammon, Mexico, Maine.

Those men who served only in this country were J. Morris Hall, California; J. Mervin Farrington, East Andover; Richard Hall, S. Andover; John Parkman, East Andover.

A new plaque made in 1958 was made for the last few men who are now in the service: James Sennett Jr., Oklahoma; Daniel LeBlanc Jr., Washington State; Richard LeBlanc, Germany and Robert Hines who is in Newfoundland.

Although the schoolhouse is no longer used as a school it is put to good use every Sunday morning from October through June when 45 pupils of the East Andover Sunday School meet under the leadership of their superintendent, Mrs. Violet Swain; Assistant, Mrs. Grace Simmons and Pianist, Mrs. Lucie Swain; teachers, Mrs. Barbara Glover Meisner, Lane Ladd, Wanita White, Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Lucie Swain, Jean Stinson also served as teacher this past year.

The Pilgrim Fellowship met once a week during the spring under the leadership of Rev. Leon Street of Mexico.

The Girl Scouts have had meetings there this past year under the guidance of Mrs. Mariel Farrington, Mrs. Grace Simmons and Mrs. Marjorie Stinson.

The Community Club, which is very active in the community, holds some meetings there.

School may have closed its doors to regular day school but the community hopes it will never close to the community as a whole for any activities that will better their children's lives.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, July 16

Read John 17:1-10

I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me; and they have received them. (John 17:8.)

Once I went to a police station to see an officer on a certain piece of business. I found him deeply absorbed in reading his Bible. Seeing me, he beckoned me to sit down.

After finishing the reading of the Word he apologized to me for keeping me waiting. He told me that it was his habit to read the Word of God every morning before beginning the work of the day. It was his delight to read it for guidance in his work throughout the day. It shed light on his daily path. He could not neglect it, as he knew that it was of daily help to him.

He was known for his integrity and uprightness among the officers and men of the police force. No one could induce him to do wrong. His superior entrusted to him the most urgent and confidential tasks. It was Christ's spirit in him and his habitual reading of the Word of God which made him what he was.

PRAYER: Our gracious Father, create in us the desire to read Thy Word every day. Forgive us for neglecting its reading. May we dig deep in it to find the riches which are eternal. In the name of Jesus Christ we ask these things. Amen.

Thought For The Day

To light my daily path, I make it a point to read the Word of God daily.

CHAMELEON

He bows from the waist with the greatest of ease!
His drawing-room manners are sure to please!
In his home he's a thoughtful considerate host!
As a guest he would satisfy Emily Post.

But, believe it or not, there's a less pleasant side.
Why, this guy is a regular Jekyll and Hyde!
Put him out on the highway, his hands on the wheel,
He's no longer a gentleman — strictly a heel!
Stop signs and signals were not meant for him —
He drives as it suits his particular whim.

Speeds along in the night as he would in the day.
He paid for his license —
GET OUT OF THE WAY!
He never dims headlights; he cuts in and out —
This drawing-room dandy, but madding lust!

Who is this chameleon?
Who is this guy?
You don't suppose? Nonsense, IT COULDN'T BE HE!

SCIENTIFIC BACKGROUND OF WEIGHT CONTROL PROGRAM EXPLAINED

The scientific background of the weight control program currently being held throughout the state is shown by the film entitled "Weight Reduction Through Diet." The film explains the research work done by Dr. Olson at Michigan State College, both among the students and families in that area. The diet pattern of 1400 calories a day is one that many women in Oxford County are finding easy to follow and satisfying, says Mrs. Ruth DeGoulean, Home Demonstration Agent of Oxford County. Over 100 women in this county have participated in this program this year, to date. Plans are underway for fall classes to begin in September.

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks to the many friends who sent me flowers and cards during my stay in the hospital and the lovely sunshine box since my return. Your thoughtfulness means so very much to me. Gladys Tyler

John Young, M. D., who will open the office recently occupied by John P. Lanni, M. D., next week. Dr. Young comes to Bethel from Jonesport, where he has practiced the past 17½ years.

MRS. SHIRLEY HOBBS HEADS HDA'S

Mrs. Shirley B. Hobbs, of Alfred, assistant home demonstration agent for the Maine Extension Service in York and Cumberland Counties, has been elected president of the Maine Home Demonstration Agents' Association.

Other new officers are Mrs. Harriet C. Worthing, Waldo County home demonstration agent, vice president; and Miss Gene M. West, Knox-Lincoln Counties home demonstration agent, secretary.

EXTENSION MEMBERSHIP REACHES 17,334 FOR YEAR

Membership in the County Extension Associations of Maine reached a total of 17,334 on June 30. This is final membership figure for the year.

Richard C. Dolloff, secretary of the Maine Extension Association and county agent leader for the Extension Service, said the total included 6,401 men and 10,933 women.

Five counties increased their memberships in their Extension Associations over last year. They were Franklin, Androscoggin-Sagadahoc, Kennebec, Knox-Lincoln, and Penobscot. This is the third consecutive year that Franklin County has increased its Extension membership. Kennebec County also increased last year.

All except two counties in Maine have more than 1,000 Extension Association members. The largest Associations are in Aroostook County, with 2,035 members; Kennebec, with 1,462; Cumberland, with 1,349; Penobscot, with 1,360; Androscoggin-Sagadahoc, 1,354; Har- cock, 1,336; Waldo, 1,281; and York County, 1,233.

County Extension Associations are already beginning to make plans for their 1959 membership campaigns which get underway this fall. Dolloff pointed out that Extension Association membership is open to every Maine man and woman interested in supporting educational work toward better agriculture, home-making, and 4-H club programs in the State.

Whatever enlarges home life also exalts courage. Sam Johnson

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by The Investment Research Department of Hemphill, Noyes & Co.
Members of the New York Stock Exchange

July 15, 1959

INDUSTRY SELECTION

It is interesting to note that during the past six months while the general stock market has been rising, the stocks of many industry groups have not participated in this rise. The importance of selecting stocks in the right industry is emphasized by the fact that out of thirty principal industry groups, thirteen outperformed the stock market average performance, three advanced at about the same rate as the stock exchange averages, three advanced at a slower rate, and seven declined. Therefore, it is important to note which industry groups have performed well in the past few months and which ones are likely to do well in the intermediate future.

Glamor stocks have been particularly popular, notably those in the aluminum, chemical, drug and electronics industries. Other good performers have been airlines, automotive, farm equipment, industrial machinery and textile stocks.

Weakness was predominant in copper stocks (indicated weakness in copper prices); natural gas stocks (uncertainties as to Federal Power Commission action regarding well head prices); oils (over-supply); papers (earnings improvement not up to expectations); tobacco (another cancer scare); and utilities (recent unpopularity of steady income securities).

As far as desirability of investment is concerned, we have upgraded the following groups: Automobile stocks, because sales of autos have risen far above earlier expectation and earnings of the respective companies are likely to be much higher than previously anticipated; Drug stocks, as we believe that earnings are increasing at a very rapid rate and for the next few

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white length embroidered tulle gown, basque bodice, long sleeves, round collar, bouffant polonaise skirt with tiers of tulle in back. ### SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS PREVENT DROWNINGS

With the summer just begun and with probably more boats on inland Maine waters than ever before, accidental drownings are near a total of two dozen. Many such tragedies could be prevented according to Chief Warden Elmer Ingraham of the Fish and Game Department.

The principle causes of accidents involving boats, Ingraham says, seem to be overloading the boat, not using safety equipment, striking out from a lee shore without realizing that rougher water lies beyond, and taking chances without thinking.

"Find out from an experienced person," he says, "how many persons your boat will carry safely. And never exceed that number. Don't be ashamed to use safety equipment; be sure to carry it in the boat."

"Remember that weather conditions can change fast, and act accordingly. Stop to think about where you're going and how the water will be. If conditions aren't right, wait a while. Put into shore if you're already underway and get caught by bad weather."

"And finally," the Chief Warden says, "remember that most of the time, it isn't really important, whether you 'get there on the dot.' What is important is that you stay alive."

It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge. —Albert Einstein.

MOOSE VISITS TWITCHELL POND CABIN SUNDAY

Sunday morning, LeRoy Martin, who lives alone in a log cabin a short distance back from the State road passing Twitchell Pond, had a most exciting experience. While he was dressing with his back to the open door his cat began to growl and cry. Looking up to see what the matter was, he was much surprised to see a moose head in his door.

He was unprepared to face an angry moose, so he shot off a cap pistol which he uses to scare birds away from his garden. The moose didn't even appear to hear it. Mr. Martin knew if the moose succeeded in entering he would wreck the cabin, so next he tried pushing the animal out by the nose. Instead he found himself on the floor with the moose snorting and shaking his head. Mr. Martin then looked around for a weapon and saw a large wooden maul. He got this and hit the moose several times as hard as he could which finally dazed it so that he hit and pushed until he was outside.

The moose stayed around and ate and trampled a strawberry bed and his vegetables into a total loss.

Mr. Martin says that recently he spilled salt on a rug just inside the doorway and probably the moose smelled it and wanted to lick the rug.
